HISTORICAL REVIEW OF THE VISIBILITY OF VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN IN THE FAMILY AS A SOCIAL PHENOMENON

Summary: In this work, the author tries to bring closer the position of women in the family throughout history and to point out the connection between the subordinate position in which women find themselves and domestic violence, which is the result of that subordinate position. Since during the entire development of the family throughout history, women suffered various forms of violence and pressure from their partners, but also from society, we owe a great deal of gratitude for the constant struggle, to the woman as a mother and support, the pillar of the modern family.

Keywords: domestic violence, violence against women, fight for women's rights, equality
